Colonial Pipeline Co. has plans to utilize part of Appomattox County to run through a 1,600 mile oil pipeline. Negotiations for this are already under way as noted in the October 11 issue of the TIMES VIRGINIAN.

Concerning this Lane stated in his article: "In June work began on a $150 million, 1,600 mile new Colonial oil pipeline from 22 to 36 inches in diameter. It will run from Houston, Texas, to southeastern points and on to the New York area.

Nine big oil companies have joined in backing the project, which will consume 630,000 tons of steel."

Concerning pipelines in general he wrote: "Like a burrowing mole, a silent and hidden method of transportation is chewing deep into the conventional freight-moving business.

"It is the pipeline."

"Networks of underground carriers are taking an increasing share of cargo from the trains, trucks, barges, and seaborne tankers."

"Astonishing demonstrations of versatility and operating economy are the key to favor with trail - blazers in the $100 - billion-a-year transportation field."

"The pipeline got its first big boost when oil and natural gas producers recognized its capabilities in the late 1800s."

"Now pipelines are moving coal, wood pulp, helium, liquid oxygen, high purity nitrogen, and other chemicals on hauls from a few miles to hundreds of miles."

"There is talk, perhaps visionary, of a day when such cargo as bauxite, forest products, milk, and dry freight in bullet - shaped containers will move inside subterranen tubes."

Home From The Hunt

Panthers Top Amelia 88-48

The Carver - Price Panthers on the eve of a cry from Coach Lewis of "Doctor get me out of my misery" put on a tremendous scoring effort and walloped Russell Grove of Amelia, by a score of 88-48. With the Panthers second leading scorer Charles Fleshman still nursing a sprained ankle and the number three man Thurman Williams in bed with the flu the winners received a superb scoring exhibition from Steve Watson with 34, a high for him since becoming a varsity performer. Gene Scruggs the Panthers area top scorer with 30 points, and Robert Humbles completed the double figure men with 10 points. With the absence of Charles Fleshman, the rebounding chores were taken over by Gene Scruggs and Robert Humbles.

With two starters on the shelf, Coach Lewis found it necessary to call on his reserve for some clutch performances, and perform they did. Reserve members that did an outstanding job in a must cause and made the future look brighter, were Kenneth Fitch, Gordon Jones, George Beasley, Carl Moore and James Humbles.

After the first quarter in which the Carver - Price quintet built a 28-9 lead, the Panthers had things their way during the rest of the game building up a 44-26 half time score and going on to a 68-40 third period lead. The entire team made the scoring column and when Coach Lewis inserted his reserves that was not enought to emalize the forces and the Panthers just kept rolling to their 88-48 victory.

The Panthers with their win Friday nite ran their overall record to 3 wins and no defeats, and are now perched atop the group II, district II standing with a 2 and 0 record.

In the preliminary game the Pantheretles continued to demonstrate their district foes by a mark that is believed to be unequaled for a score of 34-0. With the ineffective shooting of the visiting girls and the stalward defense shown by the Pantherettes, Evelyn Cheatham, Carol Andrews, and Joann Megginson, the visitors were unable to make a point and in two outings the Pantherettes have yield only an averaze of six points per game.

High scorer for the evening was Roberta Ferguson was 16 points, followed by Wanda Goode 12 points. The next game for the girls will be against Charlotte Court House.

The Panthers have completed their regular play until after the Christmas Holidays but will be in action against the alumni Friday nite. Returning to see action against the Panthers will be such stars as: Herbert Williams, Raymond Lawing, Russell Turner, James Nelson Stevens, Sam Scruggs, Robert Booker, Jimmie Williams and Eugene Moorman.

Tillie: Cabbage. It always comes in a head.

Cookie Castle For Christmas

Mrs. D. P. Moon, RFD Appomattox, is shown with a cookie castle created in her spare time using only a magazine picture as a guide. It took six pounds of confectioners' sugar, several boxes of cookies and bags of candy plus three days of "part time" labor to construct the castle. It stands approximately 24 inches high from gum drop terrace to ice cream cone turrets. Mrs. Moon says that she likes little children very much, and she has invited several into her home lately to see the Christmas treat. Knowing that the castle is a tasty-appearing temptation, she has thoughtfully provided candy and other cookies nearby so that no charging "knights" will batter down the castle walls until after the holidays.
